NEW-YORK TRIBUNE. 1863.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, first issued in 1841, in its twenty-second years, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th of December, 1862 is as follows:

Daily	50,125
Semi-Weekly	17,250
Weekly	148,000
Aggregate	215,375

Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, THE TRIBUNE has political convictions which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men" —Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the despots of the Old World, who fondly hail in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever.

THE TRIBUNE devotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Inventions, and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigoration and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle which we trust to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that not otherwise can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation.

Vol. 39-No. 24. Beaver, Wednesday, June 17, 1863. Established 1818

[WRITTEN FOR THE ARGUS.]

DOES THE BIBLE SANCTION SUCH A PRINCIPLE?

II.

It is assumed that it does. In the Washington Weekly Review of Jan. 22d, '63, we have the following from Bishop Hopkins, of Vermont:

"The first appearance of Slavery in the Bible is the wonderful prediction of the patriarch Noah, 'Cursed be be Canaan; a servant of servants shall he be to his brethern. Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, and Canaan shall be his servant. God shall enlarge Japhet, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem, and Canaan shall be his servants.' (Gen. 9th c. 23d v.)

"The heartless irreverence which Ham, the father of Canaan, displayed towards his eminent parent, whose piety had just saved him from the deluge, presented the immediate occasion for this remarkable prophecy, but the actual fulfilment was reserved for his posterity, after they had lost the knowledge of God, and became utterly polluted by the abomination of adolatry. The Almighty, foreseeing this total degradtion of the race, ordained them to Slavery or servitude under the descendants of Shem and Japhet, doubtless because He judged it to be their fittest condition; and all history proves, how accurately the prediction has been accomplished, even to the present day."

The position is, the curse of Canaan justifies negro slavery.

I. We assume that prediction of crime can never be plead in justification of it. If so, how piously might the Pharoahs have quoted God's prophecy to Abrahem—"Thy seed shall be in bondage, and they shall afflict them four hundred years." And then, what Saints were those who crucified the Lord of glory?

II. That the condition prophesied of Canaan was not slavery, but the mere rendering of service to superiors, and that it was not the bondage of individuals to others, but the condition of a nation tributary to another, and in that sense its servant.

III. We assume that it can never be proven that the Africans were the descendants of Canaan." It is notorious that Africa was peopled from Egypt and Ethiopia, and that Mizriam settled Egypt and Cush Ethiopia.

The location of Canaan's posterity, with boundaries, is given very minutely in Gen. 10—15, 19. So on the assumption that African slavery is the fulfilment of the prophecy, the objector quotes a curse pronounced upon one nation, to justify its infliction upon another. Perhaps it may be argued that Canaan is used in the passage as the representation of all Ham's posterity. If so, the prophecy has not been fulfiled. The other sons of Ham settled the Egyptian and Assyrian empires, and conjointly with Shem the Persian, and afterwards to some extent (though not mainly), the Grecian and Roman. If the history of these nations furnishes any verification of the prophecy, it must be in particulars not yet brought to the knowledge of the world. Whereas the history of the descendants of Canaan, for more than three thousand years, exhibits the prophecy in an unbroken process of fulfilment. 1st: They were conquered and made tributaries by the Israelites. Then Canaan was the servant of Shem. Afterwards they were brought under tribute by the Medes under Persians. Then Canaan was the servant of Shem, and in part of the other sons of Ham. Afterwards by the Macedonians, Grecians, and Romans, successively. Then Canaan was the servant of Japhet, mainly and secondarily of the other sons of Ham, and finally by the Ottoman dynasty, where they yet remain; and thus Canaan is now the servant of Shem and Japhet and the other sons of Ham. "If the prediction of Noah were an anathema, and that malediction were directed against the negro races, yet let it be remarked, it belongs not to the Gospel age. Here the anathemas of former dispensations are arrested and repealed; for no nation can remain accursed under the full establishment of the dominion of Christ, since all the families of the earth are to be blessed in him." The deloterious stream which withers the verdure of its banks, and spreads sterility through the soil it touches in its course, is at length absorbed and purified in the ocean, ascends and from thence in cooling vapors, and comes down upon the earth in cooling showers. Thus Christianity turns all curse ing into benedictions.

We object to the position again, for this reason: it contravenes an established law in the government of God. "The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son." "The soul that sinneth shal. die." Consequently the sins of Ham, or the Canaanites, could not be reputed to the negro races. The idea is a most monstrous one. We object still farther, because there is no proportion between the penalty and the crime. The alleged offence, if Ham's was but an indiscretion, if the idolatry of Canaanites, it bears no comparison to the penalty. The penalty runs through thousands of years; and falls on millions. Behold that dreadful column marching forward, and as it sinks into the grave, but ever supplied with new recruits at the other end, and thus moving on from age to age. And as you see that column move, hear their groans, see their tears, behold their flowing blood, see them beaten even worse than brutes. Husband and wife torn asunder, children sent away from the parents forever, denied intellectual pursuits, or moral cultivation. And now pause and consider again who are these. They are God's creatures, made and fashioned by himself. Now ask why all these woes. You are told it is the just penalty due the sins of the Canaanits strangely mingled with the sin of Ham. "He judged it to be their fittest condition." What has God done that his rational treasures should slander his adorable character. Pardon me, every power of soul mutinies at the blasphemy.

The Whining of a Dog.

Emerson Etheridge, clerk of the House of Representatives, has written a letter to the "Washington Union Club of Memphis," acknowledging and declining an invitation to be present at a public celebration of the anniversary of the surrender of that city to the federal arms. This letter has been published in such journals as the New York Herald, and is the lowest and meanest specimen of whining and attempted sarcasm at the expense of the Administration, that ever emanated from the heart of a coward or the pen of a hypocrite. Etheridge was evidently bidding for a favor of some kind, when he wrote this epistle, and we feel like predicting that it is the initial movement on his part to attach himself to the fortunes of Jeff. Davis, where his hopes and sympathies have undoubtedly been secreted ever since the traitors armed to destroy the Union. As an evidence of this, we need only assert that this dirty villifier of good men actually refused to assist the Union men of Maryland by addressing the people of that State in favor of the Government at the precipitation of rebellion, because he was fearful it might compromise his father in-law; and lead to the confiscation of a few acres of land he owned in Tennesee. Yet this is the man that now attempts to vituperate those who have made noble sacrifices of property, of person and affection to promote the safety of the Government. Out upon such a dastard! Dog is too noble a term to be applied to such creatures!

Etheridge is undoubtedly bidding for copperhead support as a candidate for clerk of the coming House of Representatives. If he fails in that, he will attach himself to the rebel government just as soon as he can escape through our lines, provided that oligarchy of cut throat is to existence at that time. If not, he will join any new conspiracy to impair and destroy the Union. "Mark our prediction".—Har. Tel.

EXCITING INCIDENT ON THE CARS.—Last Friday an exciting occurrence took place on the passenger train from Toledo to this city. On one of the cars was a party of soldiers returning from Dixie on furlough.—When the conductor approached them to collect the fare, one of them tendered a five dollar green back saying, "take your change out of that, old fellow, the best currency in the world, sir." "You may think so," responded the butternut conductor. "I don't consider it worth any more than so much brown paper." The soldier's eyes flashed fire. "You d——d Copperhead," he exclaimed, "how dare you speak that way before us? How dare you impeach the credit of our Government which we have been perilling our lives to uphold? You are not fit to live!" and drawing a pistol he pointed it at the trembling conductor, and was about to fire, when an officer, who had been watching the proceedings, seized his arm and restrained him. Then addressing the butternut knave, the officer told him that if he wished to avoid trouble, he had better leave the train at the next station, which he did, and the cars came on without him.

The above incident may serve as a warning to all Copperheads of the treatment they may expect when our brave boys in the army having conquered the rebels in the South, shall turn their attention to traitors at home.—Detroit Tribune.

LUCKY BROKERS.—The New York Sun says:—A stock broker who began business about a year ago on a thousand dollars has had an extraordinary run of luck, as most brokers have had during the past year and has realized a fortune of a million and a half of dollars. A few days since he settled on his wife the snug sum of eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars, so that if he should meet with reverses they may still have something for their old age. Another broker, who also began with small means a year ago, is now worth over a million of dollars. It is rumored that these men have "official relations" that keep them posted on war news in advance of the associated press.

☞A letter from Monticello Ky., speaking of the manner in which the people received our troops in their recent advance on that place, says: "One old lady, a mile beyond this place, said, as she saw our columns rushing on after the rebels: 'When I seed that old flag comin' I jist threw'd my old bonnet on the ground and stomped on it.'"

Extraordinary [illegible] Wounds.

A Nashville [illegible] of the Cincinnati G[illegible] account of a remarkab[illegible]ery from wounds, whi[illegible] his observation. It is [illegible], Vance, of company H[illegible] Indiana mounted volun[illegible]

When the reg[illegible] which young Vance belonged [illegible]ting near Taylorsville, Te[illegible] a companion were taken [illegible]ers. During the next twenty [illegible]rs their captors treated th[illegible]dly. They neither saw [illegible] anything to lead them to sus[illegible] any different treatment w[illegible]tore for them till they came wi[illegible]ile or two of Lebanon. Here [illegible]is wished to be free from the [illegible] their prisoners. They then [illegible]led them to a tree. A Captain [illegible]ch, of the rebel army, objected [illegible]lan of leaving them thus pinion[illegible]d at once coolly and calmly drew [illegible] revolver and fired three shots [illegible]gh the heads of each as they w[illegible]pinioned to the tree. His compa[illegible]s was at once dispatched; but as [illegible]s was unfastened, he fell forwa[illegible]n his face, and another of the [illegible] band, named Cartwright, fired [illegible]ourth shot thro' the victim's head.

Vance assures [illegible] that he did not at any time lose [illegible] consciousness.—He heard all they said and knew all they did. Here he lay twenty-six hours, during the 4th and 5th of April when he was discovered by some of our troops and brought into camp, and his wounds dressed by a surgeon of one of the Ohio regiments. Nothing was done for him till thirty-two hours after he was wounded. These are the facts. Now for the nature of the wounds:

They were inflicted by the large revolver used by our cavalry, and the cold-blooded murderers fired within a yard of the pinioned victim's head.

The first shot took effect about an inch back and below the right cheek bone, and came out on the opposite side about the same distance from the left cheek bone.

The second ball entered about an inch and a half below, and a little nearer the ear than the first, and passing through in the same line of the first, breaking the jaws and loosening the teeth.

The third entered the neck just below and in a line vertical to the lower tip of the ear. This lodged in the opposite side of the neck, from whence the surgeon removed it.

The fourth—the one that had been inflicted by Cartwright, after he had been thrown on his face—entered back of his ear, about the center of combativeness, and escaped through his left eye completely destroying it.

And yet John W. Vance lives and looks well and hearty. He is an intelligent, fine looking young man, just arrived at his majority. I sat half an hour on the adjoining cot, and conversed with him and examined his wounds while he was eating his dinner; and he ate with the relish of a man who loves life and desires to prolong it.

The loss of his left eye will be his only real disfigurement.

But how it was possible for four leaden messengers of death to pass through the parts they did without proving mortal, is a marvelous problem. But such are the facts and they are of sufficient importance to be perpetuated.

AN ACCUMULATIVE SOLDIER.—A letter from Baton Rogue, describes one of Col. Grierson's soldiers making his entry into that town after the famous raid, laden with the spoils of war:

One old fellow amused us greatly. He rode a switch-tailed mule, for which he had exchanged his worn-out horse—he carried two Confederate sabres swung at his saddle bow in addition to his own, a double-barreled shot-gun hung beside his carbine, and to crown all he carried a fiddle-box under his left arm. As he smiled from under his slouched hat, and glanced benignly upon us through a pair of huge green goggles, the disposition to outrageous mirth was irrepressible. Such a ludicrous combination of all the best traits of the Yankee character—courage, dash endurance and thrift—was never seen before.

VICISSITUDES OF LIFE IN AUSTALIA.—A writer in the United Service Journal (London) tells some queer stories of the changes in social position that some of his friends underwent in seeking their fortunes in Australia. A gentlemen who once kept his cab in London, and belonged to a fashionable club, is serving out liquor at a bar in the employ of a man who was a waiter at the club of which the gentleman was a member; a former Major in the English army is working as a laborer for $1 50 per day; another army man is hawking cabbages about the streets; a lawyer is washing bottles; an Oxford University man is shoeing horses; and the son of a clergyman is working on the highways.

☞News has come by way of Matamoras that General Sam Houston is running as candidate for Governor on the "Lone Star" ticket. His plan is to re-establish the Republic of Texas."

Financial Condition of the Government.

During the two years which have been occupied by the Government in efforts to crush out the rebellion, the resources of the country have been developed to an extent which is without a precedent in the history of the world; but the most extraordinary feature which is presented to the gaze of the nations of the earth, is the success of the Secretary of the Treasury in the financial measure recommended by him and carried out under his immediate direction.

When Mr. Chase assumed the charge of the Treasury Department, as left by Mr. Buchanan's Administration, it was literally bankrupt, and, with a debt of about seventy millions of dollars, the treasury was empty. The war commenced immediately, and with a line of expenditures more stupendous than anything yet witnessed, every obligation of the Government has been promptly met, and to-day the exchequer of the nation is more than prepared to meet any demand which can be made against it.

It is no ordinary mind which could plan, and carry out the stupendous schemes by which such results have been produced; and it must be conceded on all hands that the unpretending courage which was brought to the great work of saving the nation, in a financial point of view, is worthy the admiration of the country.

The patriotism and confidence of the people, however, has had much to do with the success of Mr. Chase's operations; for without a full display of these the most herculean efforts must have failed. The people have poured their money into the Government treasury with a freedom never before witnessed, and the darker the period the more liberal have been their contributions. With such a spirit of patriotism as has been constantly exhibited, and with such a man at the head of the Treasury Department of the Government, there need be no fears for the result.—Phil. News.

Governor Curtin.

We have had occasion several times, since the rebellion broke out, to refer to the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth in terms of commendation. We have said that it was fortunate the State had to preside over her destinies in this momentous crisis of the Nation; a man of so much patriotism, nerve, energy and endurance; and we regretted deeply when the announcement was officially made, two or three months ago, that he would not suffer his name to be used for a renomination. We were confident, then as we are confident now, that no other man in the State was so strongly engrafted upon the affections of the people, civil and military, as himself. The devotion he has exhibited upon all occasions, to the public interests immediately connected with his home duties; and especially the prompt, manly and powerful manner in which he has sustained the National Government, as well as the untiring and sleepless attention bestowed upon the soldiers of Pennsylvania, whether in the field, the camp or hospital, unite in making up a record for him which any man in the country might be proud to possess.

Viewing the character, qualifications, and services of Gov. Curtin from every point, we cannot but regard him as the most suitable and available candidate for the gubernatorial chair in the ranks of loyal citizens. It is therefore with unfeigned satisfaction that, notwithstanding the formal withdrawal of his name, we perceive the people seem determined to restore it; and if we are to judge from the expression of the public sentiment in many different quarters, to renominate him and re-elected him, without regard to his own wishes. We need only add that we join heartily in the hope that this result will be accomplished, for the reasons stated; as well as for the additional reason that in the dispensation of office and patronage, he has acted impartially toward all loyal men, without regard to old party divisions.—Germantown Telegraph.

General Franklin.

Our despatches to-day state that General Franklin has consented to become a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, on the Democratic ticket, provided the party will adopt an unequivocal war platform. Now is the time for that party to prove itself for or against the country.—Cincinnati Times.

There is no necessity for any more proofs to show whether the Democracy be for or against the country. Its leaders will nominate the candidate which they think can get the most votes, and they will proclaim their determination to sustain the war; but at the same time they will make use of every means in their power to embarrass those who have the management of the war, and to prevent our armies from gaining victories over the rebels.

☞An Irish lawyer lately addressed the court as "gentlemen" instead of "your honors." A brother of the bar reminded him of his error. He immediately rose to apologise thus: "May it please the court, in the heat of debate, I called your honors gentleman in mistake."

A Peace Democrat's Creed.

A Peace Democrat is one who believes in the doctrine of State Rights as interpreted at the South—that is, Southern States have rights, while Northern States have none. South Carolina has a right to imprison citizens of Massachusetts but she has no right to remonstrate. A Southern State has a right to array her citizens in arms against the Government of the United States, but a Norther State has no right to call on her sons to defend it.

He believes in the right of man, but the most sacred of these rights, indeed the only one worth mentioning, is, the right to take from other men their rights.

He believes in maintaining the Constitution, as interpreted by rebels in arms to destroy it.

He believes all men to be equal before the law—especially he believes the poor man to be equal to the rich man, the laborer to be as good as the capitalist; yet he actively and cordially sympathises with those who deluge his country in blood because they are too good gentlemen to submit to the election of a rail-splitter.

He believes the Democratic party to have a divine right to govern the country, whether it had a majority of votes or not; and he is convinced that the question—which is the "Democratic" party of the country at the present crisis?—is absolutely determined by the name which itself has assumed. Call a horse "Spry," and you can safely bet on his speed.

He calls it fair play to go into an election, and refuse to abide by its result. He likes the view of a two fisted countrymen of Bob Roy, who played cards with some Hebrews and lost his money. He at once seized the "pile" and shook his fist at his fellow-gamblers, saying, "Dom ye, ye are enemies to our Lord!"

He thinks the United States have a right to steal Cuba, and no right to prevent Kentucky from being stolen from us.

The several points of belief show on what a solid basis of consistent intelligence the faith of the Peace Democrat rests.

Democratic Candidate for Governor.

Some of the Democratic party managers are getting alarmed at the position of the principal Copperhead candidates, Messrs. Sanderson, Clymer, Witte and Cessna, and are attempting to bring out Gen. W. B. Franklin, of York. This is putting all the others aside, and resorting to the expediency dodge. How this will be received by the rank and file remains to be seen. We doubt, however, if the experiment is worth trying.

The impression is fast gaining ground that the Hon. Hiester Clymer, of Berks, will receive the nomination, unless some dodge of the kind above spoken of can be forced on the party. Should Mr. Clymer be the candidate of the Copperheads, we can say to the loyal men of Pennsylvania, they will have no mean candidate to contend with. As a bold and fearless champion of Copperheadism he has few equals in the State, and it will be their duty to nominate at Pittsburg, a candidate of equal ability. The day of "flunk-head" and "blather-skiter" for Governor of Pennsylvania, we hope has gone by; and it will be a risky experiment to put any other than a first class man in nomination. The Copperheads know this and are acting on it.—Lancaster Examiner.

RULE TO CHECKMATE REBEL SPIES.—The Government has begun to put inforce a new rule, by which effectually to prevent pretended deserters refugees from the rebel army from returning South with information for the enemy, which they have acquired while wearing the mask of suffering loyalty, and enjoying the freedom of parole. It has been determined that all who call themselves deserters shall be sent, as soon as they arrive within our lines, to Philadelphia, where the oath of allegiance will be administered to them, and an additional oath by which they bind themselves not to go further South than Philadelphia, under the penalty of being treated as spies.

RESIGNING OFFICERS TO BE KEPT IN OFFICE.—It has been determined to accept the resignations of officers in the field desirous of leaving active service, and resorting to the plea of disability, so far as to release the officer from field service and transfer him to the Invalid Corps. It is thought that this will check resignations on this questionable plea. A Board, consisting of Colonel D. B. Sackett, Inspector General, and Medical Director R. H. Coolidge, has been appointed and convened by the Surgeon General to examine men so resigning.

☞A Boston paper says: "We learn that all the fortifications in our harbor are to be put in telegraphic communication with the city without delay."

☞There are now about ninety thousand guns on hand in the Springfield Arsenal, seventy thousand of which are packed ready for shipment.

"A Maniac wife."

We see an article going the rounds of the copperhead press with this caption. It depicts in fierce and threatening terms the fact (we know nothing of its authenticity) that the wife of Vallandigham, the traitor, has become a maniac. If this be a fact, so much the blacker the crime of the apostate Vallandigham becomes—so much the more deserving he and his sympathisers are of the condemnation of men of loyalty and true affection. But the copperhead press endeavor to create an impression, that the influence which conduced to the insanity of Mrs. Vallandigham, is to be traced to the act of the Government in arresting her husband. On this point the copperhead press become very dolorous, endeavoring to create an odium against the Government of sufficient weight to ensure its immediate disgrace and destruction

If it really true that Mrs. Vallandigham has become a maniac, then indeed has treason in her husband produced a woful effect. But ere there no other suffering woman in the land but Mrs. Vallandigham? Cannot the copperhead press find words of condolence and sympathy for the wives who have become widows in the glare and flash of rebel musketry? Alas, no! Thousands of noble wives and mothers in the loyal States have been bereft of all that was dear to them—of husbands and sons, slain while they were bravely contending for the Constitution and the Union, and yet the copperhead press never print a word in sympathy for any of these sufferers. The husbands and sons of these women went down to death while defending the principles of freedom, and that debars them from copperhead sympathy. If they had been punished or proscribed as traitors, columns of the copperhead press would teem with sympathy for them as it now does for the maniac wife of the traitor Vallandigham.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

THE DISABLED GENERALS ON ACTIVE SERVICE.—It is really surprising how many disabled generals are now on active service. In the Union army we have among others General Oliver O. Howard, who lost his arm at Seven Pines, twelve months since; Gen. T. W. Sweeney, who lost an arm in Mexico, and has been twice wounded in the remaining one at Shiloh, and Gen. E. A. Wild, who has lost one arm and been wounded in the other during the present war. Gen. Kearney, who was killed at Chantilly, lost one of his arms in Mexico. In the rebel service we find that, Gen. Ewell, who succeeds Stonewall Jackson, has but one leg, and strapped on his horse while on the field. General Loring is called the "one armed fighting general."

LAND FOR AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES.—The General Land Office has received a certified copy of an act of the Legislature of New Jersey, accepting the grant by act of Congress of July 2, 1862, of lands for Agricultural Colleges. Scrip will be issued to the State for 210,000 acres, which may be located by the assignees of the State upon any of the public lands, subject to private entry at $1 25 per acre.

☞Some days ago a party of Osage Indians went into Fort Scott for ammunition. They reported they had had a fight with the guerilla Matthews, and had succeeded in killing him and twenty or twenty-five of his gang. A correspondent of the Leavenworth Times, says: "They chopped off the heads of eighteen rebels and piled them up together.—Indians don't care about being bothered with prisoners of war."

☞Keep it before the people, that the only party that the Copperheads fight is the party of the Union!

Keep it before the people, that the copperheads are in sympathy with, and many of them actually belong to the Knights of the golden circle

Keep it before the people, that none of the Copperhead newspapers or speakers ever denounce that treasonable organization, but expend their wrath upon the loyal men who have banded together to save the Government.

☞A newspaper, in noticing the presentation of a silver cup to a contemporary, says: He needs no cup. He can drink from any vessel that contains liquor—whether the neck of a bottle, the mouth of a demijohn, the spile of a keg, or the bunghole of a barrel.

☞A few days since, Gen Rosecrans was dining at a hotel. He unfortunately tasted the Tennessee butter, when he immediately arose and saluted the plate before him, remarking, "Gentleman, that butter outranks me!"

GENERAL ROSECRANS ON RETALIATION.—Gen. Rosecrans has ordered all officers of the rebel army now held as prisoners, and who may hereafter be captured in battle, to be placed in close confinement and strongly guarded. None will be paroled or exchanged.

A COLORED GIRL.—A Westerner says that the prejudices against color are very natural, yet the prettiest girl he ever knew was Olive Brown.

A Call for 50,000 Men

Gov. Curtin has issued a proclamation for 50,000 men, to be raised immediately, for the defence of the State. We have no doubt but that this number will be raised within a few days. It is reported that the rebels are now in Pennsylvania. Organize into companies immediately, and be ready to repel the invaders, when called upon.

BEAVER SEMINARY AND INSTITUTE.—The Anniversary Exercises of this Institution will occur as follows:

Sunday morning, 10½ o'clock, 21st inst, in the M. E. Church, Beaver, the Annual Sermon will be preached by Rev. Isaac Aiken.

Monday evening, 22nd, Exercises of the Sigourney Literary Society.

Tuesday evening, 23d, Musical Soiree.

Wednesday evening, 24th, Address before the Literary Society, by Hon. D. Agnew.

Thursday evening, Exercises of the Graduating Class.

Examination of the classes will commence Monday afternoon, to continue during the day till Thursday noon. Admission: Monday evening, 10 cents. Tuesday and Wednesday, free. Thursday evening, twenty cents. The friends of the Institution are invited to be present.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The Evening Bulletin says a dispatch received in this city to-day from Bolton's station, on the Northern Central Railroad, says that Gen. Tyler had retreated from Martinsburg, at eight o'clock last evening, and that our forces at Winchester had probably been captured yesterday and that the enemy are in force, probably ten thousand strong, at Hagerstown—The dispatch adds that the danger is great, as the enemy is advancing in heavy force.

A private dispatch from a trustworthy source says that the rebels appeared near Chambersburg this morning, and it is probable that the place has already been occupied by them.

BALTIMORE, June 15.—Gen. Milroy was surrounded at Winchester by 18,000 rebels, but after a desperate fight cut his way through, and united with our forces at Harper's Ferry.—Our forces at Martinsburg have also fallen back on Harper's Ferry.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A Springfield, Ill, dispatch to the World announces the prorogation of the Legislature by the Governor. The Republicans left, but the Democrats continued in session until the afternoon, when finding it useless to attempt to do business, they informally left their seats, after entering their protest arraigning the Governor for usurpation and unconstitutional acts.

The "Grand Rally."

Want of time and space prevented us from giving particular attention to and deserving notice of the "Grand Rally," as the managers called it, that gathered in the Court House, on Monday of last week, to manifest their unlimited sympathy with Jeff. Davis' Confederacy. As we promised in our last issue, to return to this assemblage and review its proceedings, we now proceed to the fulfilment, and will, as briefly as possible, sketch some of the leading features, characters, and incidents of the motley and misguided concern.

An early amusing part of this farcical "Rally" was the election of a Delegate to go to Harrisburg to nominate candidates for Governor and Supreme Judge. The two prominent candidates were Messrs. Dougherty and Donehoo. The former largely prevailed, and the latter and his friends attribute his defeat to the fact that he raised a Cavalry company and went out to do battle against the rebels!! But that poor subterfuge won't do.—Almost everybody has heard of the case of a young lawyer, who was a candidate for the Legislature. His father was urging one of his neighbors to vote for his aspiring and hopeful son, when the objection was immediately made by the neighbor that he had made up his mind long before, never to vote for a lawyer. The father of the anxious candidate instantly replied; "Oh! my son is not lawyer enough to hurt him." So we may safely say that Mr. Donehoo never went to war enough to hurt him—And we cannot, therefore, suppose his defeat in the "Grand Rally" was owing to his military achievements.

After the disposition of the delegate question, S. B. Wilson, Esq. the High Priest and chief conductor of the "show," said he would like to read some resolutions expressive of the sense or nonsense of this wonderful spontaneous demonstration of loyalty to—not the Union—but the rebellion and so called Southern Confederacy,—and which would lay down a Copperhead Platform, upon which the "Grand Rally" might stand with unflinching confidence, and bask in the approving smiles of Jeff. Davis. As Samuel owned the "show" and the clown, leave was of course allowed him, and he proceeded to read a set of as wishy washy, back-boneless snake in the grass resolutions as ever emanated from a disloyal and timid mind.

This eventful deliverance over, and Samuel convalescent, next entered the clown of the "varieties," draped in fantastic costume (as clowns always are) with the radiant and charming hues of the blossoms of the crab tree. At this critical and momentous juncture, upon which the fate of a great nation seemed to sway with doubtful destination, the "Grand Rally" was startled, looked aghast, their hair stood on end like the quills of the fretful porcupine," and could only be quieted as to this new arrival of such "questionable shape," by the waving of the magic wand of Conductor Wilson.

The Conductor, with one of those unrivaled expressions of countenance, of which he is sole proprietor, introduced to the assemblage the personage alluded to. And such an introduction has seldom if ever been heard since public meetings and public speakers have been known on earth. He took the fellow with the fancy clothes by the arm, and said he had the honor and ineffable pleasure of introducing to the "Grand Rally" his particular friend and co sympathizer with rebeldom, to their favorable consideration and blind adoration. That the orator of the occasion was "one-eyed," and of course would keep a single eye on the cause of rebellion; that Douglas had said, at some unknown time and place, that "one eyed Bob. Gibson" (as Conductor Wilson styled him) was the greatest orator, stump speaker and buffoon that had ever appeared since the days of the original Adam. When it is more than probable that Douglas never saw or heard of the fellow. But it seemed strange that the author of the resolutions should desire to have his "one-eyed" friend (we use his own language,) endorsed by Douglas;—as in the campaign of 1860, and at other times, Douglas was the constant object of the low abuse of the Conductor of the "Rally." If he had said that Breckinridge or Jeff. Davis had approved the orator's style and ability, there would have been an apparent fitness of things.

Thus introduced, the orator of this momentous occasion launched out without compass or rudder, without regard to decency or truth, and without any respect for the rules governing the use of the English language, and ranted and foamed for over two hours. During this long tirade of coarse and vulgar vituperation, heaped on the Administration of the National Government, on Mr. Lincoln personally, on preachers, and Northern men generally, it was a remarkable fact that he never uttered one word of condemnation of Jeff. Davis and his followers, or the rebellion itself! Against the Southern rebels he had nothing to say; he could see no wrong in their flagrant course in levying war against the United States. That was perfectly constitutional, in the distorted view taken by the matchless clown; whilst Mr. Lincoln and his administration, in their efforts to put down the rebellion, had, according to the speaker's account, trampled under foot the Constitution and laws, so that there was nothing of either left.

He commenced the subject of the present war by excusing the South and attributing the war and its dire consequences, not to anything done by the rebels in seizing the Forts, Arsenals, Custom Houses, Hospitals and munitions of war of the National Government, nor the battering down of Fort Sumter, and dishonoring the National flag—but this most imprudent and lying demagogue said the leading cause of our national troubles was to be traced to a speech made by Mr. Lincoln, whilst a private citizen, in Springfield, Illinois, in 1858! And yet such was the character and grade of intelligence of the "Grand Rally," that for this nonsense and falsehood, he was applauded. He then said that the war could have been prevented by the North—that it was unnecessary and should be compromised or settled in a manner of course agreeable to the wishes of the rebels.

That the adoption of the Crittenden Compromise would have prevented the war—that the compromise was defeated by Northern men or Abolitionists, and that the Southern members had no control over the question. Now we say to this unscrupulous babbler, that the records of Congress prove what he said, and what others of his kind are daily saying, to be untrue. The records of the Senate show that when Senator Clark, of New Hampshire, offered an amendment to the Crittenden Compromise, which at once called for a test-vote, the roll was called and this amendment carried by ayes 25, nays 23, a majority of only two votes. But whilst this important vote was taken, then and there in their seats, sat Benjamin, Johnson, Iverson, Slidell and two others, all Southern Senators and all refusing to vote. Suppose they had voted against Clark's amendment, then the vote would have stood; ayes 25, nays 29—giving four majority against the amendment, and leaving the Crittenden Compromise to stand in all its vigor. Why did not these six Southern Senators vote on this grave question, the decision of which it is claimed by the friends and sympathizers of treason, would have prevented the war? Just because the South wanted no compromise and were determined to have none. Years and years ago the leading spirits of the South had resolved to destroy this Government;—they broke up the old Democratic party at Charleston with that view—they desired the election of a Republican President, that they might have an excuse or pretext for secession, which has brought about the present lamentable condition of our country.

Our space will not allow, nor the subject warrant us, in following the gasconading orator in detail through his mazy fustian. The chief objects upon which he dwelt and often returned to with delight, were niggers, Abolitionists, dogs, and some kind of animals he had found over in Washington county, down on Scrubby run, where the orator graduated, called "whangdoodles." What the peculiar character of the "whangdoodle" is, the speaker did not define, but from what he did say, it was pretty well understood that he was himself a member of the "whangdoodle" family.—Throughout the whole course of his frothy effort, there was not a single argument or attempt at argument, on any of the great questions which have agitated the public mind for more than two years past. Nothing but abuse and low and disgusting dog and "whangdoodle" stories and misrepresentations of facts could be found in any portion of his noisy declamation. If any came to hear argument or to receive light and information in regard to our national troubles, they went away as they came—without the slightest benefit from all that was said or done. The language of the speaker at times was absolutely disgusting and offensive, and especially so in the presence of ladies.

There was another feature of the "Grand Rally" fit to be noticed. The manager or conductor of the concern constituted himself a kind of master of signals, whose duty it was to take an elevated position and signal the Rally" when to applaud. This duty was well performed, for whenever "whangdoodle" said anything, whether pointed or pointless, flat or sharp, the signal man gave intimation where the applause ought to come in, and "Grand Rally" instantly got into a regular stampede. When "whangdoodle" stopped off the gas the scene changed to one of exquisite refinement and floral taste. Whilst the "show" was going on, there entered the Court House a small detatchment of Democratic ladies, who were preceded and escorted by an ex-Militia General, who had long years ago gathered unfading laurels from many a renowned cornstalk muster-field, where his brigade had on and again made brilliant and dashing raids on whole divisions of gingerbread, demolishing the same, and capturing any amount of sassafras-beer as well as considerable hard ware, the loss being—no one killed, but many wounded in the neck. The General held in his hand at the head of the columns, a hoop (supposed to have been withdrawn from it position on a ten-penny nail Keg), which had been bedecked and bedizened by the artistic taste and skill of the Democratic ladies, with the intention of forming a wreath to be presented to "whangdoodle," the orator of the day, as a slight indication of the appreciation entertained by the donors for his great worth, loyalty and chasteness of style.

We were not permitted to get close to the hoop, but judging of it at a distance, and it is said that we were much delighted with the tasteful interweaving of the hollyhock, the poppy, the dandelion, the sour-dock, the dog-fennel (this last weed was introduced in reference to the orator's taste for dogs, and his unequaled merits in telling dog stories) and by way of a few finishing touches, we thought we discovered around the little hoop, a few choice leaves of mullein, put in graceful and attractive positions, interspersed with divers sweet-scented onion blossoms.

"Distance lends enchantment to the view
And robes the mountain in its azure hue,"

This wreath, or ornamental keg-hoop, was given to the pious and classic Long, the editor of the Star, to be by him presented in behalf of the ladies, to the "whangdoodle" speaker. Long undertook the task with fear and trembling, and holding the little hoop in his hand, with all its fragrance encircling him, we imagined that he looked like a scared "johnny jump up." Well, he presented the hoop, with a vast amount of botanic eloquence and pathos. We looked over the crowd and came to the conclusion that the "Grand Rally" had, in their own minds, quietly decided, that they "Needed no keg-hoop here below,

Nor needed that little Long."

"Whangdoodle" accepted the hoop, and broke out in a new place, in his "highfalutin," spread-eagle style, admonishing the ladies that it was their duty to help to save the "remnant of our government," thereby agreeing to an existing dissolution. He further advised them not to speak to any fellow that went out at night to secret meetings or organizations such as the Knights of the Golden Circle. He said he would take the hoop home with him, and when the weeds died out and withered, and their aromatic fragrance had ceased to greet his nostrils, he would hang the wreath up in one corner of his memory, and get Vallandigham to embalm it. That he was on a proselyting pilgrimage, and with this little hoop, Vallandighan's arrest, and the "whangdoodle," he intended to make three hundred and fifty votes in Washington county alone, and the number he intended to make in other places would be hard to count.

This imposing ceremony over, Conductor Wilson was called on for a speech. He answered that he thought it would be highly improper to undertake a job of that magnitude, after what had been done by his "one-eyed friend,"—but that as soon as he nominated the next Governor, he would come back, and as he had put on the harness, and the heavy Jeff. Davis collar, he would address the several districts of the county in due form. So the people of the districts may "look out for the locomotive"—the Northern war-horse with rebel harness.

Next was called R. Gregory Gregor Mc McGregor. He, as our readers know is always "spilin" for a speech. He came forward and said he would tell some stories—Robert always was addicted to that habit, and it was just in his line. He said he had been addressing school houses and barns up in North Sewickly, but that didn't amount to much, and the next time he tried it, he intended to go into a four acre field, where he could have a wide berth, or as we understood it, he intended, like that old fellow called Nebuchadnezzar, to go to grass. Robert might have saved himself this announcement, as he has been in rather hard pasture for years past. Robert subsided, under the hopeful belief that he would soon be assigned a four acre field to spread himself in.

Mr. Dougherty, the Delegate elect, was called on to speak, but also declined. He was understood to say he had spoken for a set of harness similar to that of the Conductor, and of course under his order. That he would make some noise in the course of time, and do a vast amount of service.

Here the "Grand Rally" broke up, giving no cheers for the Union, nor showing sympathy elsewhere than for the rebellion.

Such meetings and such proceedings are disgraceful to the loyalty of Beaver county; but may prove useful in stirring up our citizens to renewed vigilance and efforts to sustain the national administration in suppressing the rebellion and restoring the Government to its former prosperity and greatness.

OUR COLORED TROOPS.—The colored troops now in service are as follows: General Thomas' recruits 11,000; under General Banks 3,000; in Kansas 1,000; in South Carolina 3,000; under General Rosecrans 5,000; under Gen. Schofield 2,000; Massachusetts regiments 1,200 in the District of Columbia 800—total 30,000. There are also 5,000 colored men in the navy.

CHAMBERSBURG, June 15, 8 p. m.—Lieut Palmer has just returned. He had to fight his way out two miles this side of Greencastle.

A Wonderful Coincidence.

At the Copperhead Convention last week, one R. M. Gibson delivered a harangue, which was mostly devoted to vituperation and abuse of the Government and the Administration—Those who heard the foul-mouthed traitor will recollect how he dwelt upon the fact that the war was a cruel and unjust one, and his speaking of the Tyranny which had robbed us of our property, dragged us to the field of battle, and is daily deluging the country with blood. It will be remembered also, how he spoke of our country having once been happy and peaceful, but by this tyranny we had rejected peace, etc., etc.,

We now wish to call the attention of our readers to a Proclamation of another traitor to our country, in which the language is so very similar to that used by Gibson, as to leave but little doubt that the same feelings prompted the utterance of both.—Note the sentences in italics:

When Benedict Arnold had sold his country to its enemies, and found himself unable to deliver the goods, he made a precipitate escape to the British lines, and there proclaimed his treason in a Proclamation, which reads as follows:

[From Benedict Arnold's Proclamation to the Citizens and Soldiers of the United States, issued October 20, 1780.]

"You are promised liberty by the leaders of your affairs, but is there an individual in the enjoyment of it saving your oppressors? Who among you dare to speak or write what he thinks against the tyranny which has robbed you of your property imprisons your sons, drags you to the field of battle, and is daily deluging your country with blood?

"Our country once was happy, and had the proffered peace been embraced the last two years of a misery had been spent in peace and plenty, and repairing the desolation of the quarrel that would have set the interest of Great Britain and America in a true light and cemented their friendship.

"I wish to lead a chosen band of Americans to the attainment of peace, liberty and safety, the first objects in taking the field.

"What is America, but a land of widows, orphans and beggers? But what need of argument to such as feel infinitely more misery than tongue can express? I give my promise of most affectionate welcome to all who are disposed to join me in measures necessary to close the scene of our affliction, which must be increased until we are content with the liberty of the parent country, which still offers us protection and perpetual exemption from all taxes but such as we shall think fit to impart upon ourselves.

There it is. There is the grand fountain whence the present race of hissing copperheads draw their inspiration. Every man who endorses the speech of Gibson is just to-day what Benedict Arnold was in the days of the Revolution—A TRAITOR!

The editor of the Star has made a great ado over our calling him and his clan Traitors. There is proof. If Arnold was a traitor, then Long, Gibson, et id omne genus, are all traitors. If they are good, loyal men, then Arnold was a loyal man. And they will be regarded, hereafter, in the same light as their ancient leader!

☞THE following is an extract from a letter written by a member of the 101st regiment—a private, we believe—to a friend:

I see in the Star that we received, that the grand editor denounces our officers as a band of "Thieves and Speculators," wanting to keep this war going on for the sake of pay, and says that the resolutions passed in the different regiments are not the sentiments of the men. He also publishes a letter, or an extract from one, saying that some anonymous writer had written to him regarding the sentiments of the rank and file, and more than that the writer had voted for Lincoln. It is a great pity that he would acknowledge that much. I have talked with a great many of the men in relation to this article regarding Peace. Yes, there is none of us but who wants peace, but we do not want it on the principle of the Copperhead and Rebel style, because those who are at home, crying "peace," are nothing but traitors and cowards!—What kind of a country would we have if we would cry peace? What would our Government be worth? It would be a dishonor and disgrace forever. The only peace we want is a restoration of this government; and that we will have, if we have to serve another three years. If the copperheads want peace let them shoulder their muskets and come out and help us to fight it out. But no, they would rather sit at home, crying, "You can't whip them; you must give them peace." I am not writing against any party, for we have good and true men in all parties, who march side by side; but I speak of those so-called peace men.

Resolved, That the Delegates to this Convention be authorized to appoint Committees in their respective townships to raise volunteers for temporary service, under the call of the Governor, to report with their men Wednesday night to the Provost Marshal at New Brighton.

On motion, adjourned.

(Signed by the Officers.)

From the 101st Reg. Pa. V.

MR. EDITOR:—The Western Star of May the 1st, contains the following significant language:

"We have yet to see a set of resolutions purporting to come from the army which was even probably a free expression of the wishes of the soldiers."

Rather cool, Mr. Star! So the officers of the army from whom resolutions have been sent from time to time, are all hypocrites, liars, &c., &c. Perhaps it would be a discovery to you to know the appreciation in which such editors as you are held in the Union Army; if so, the following will enlightened you upon this subject:

On dress parade, the following preamble and resolutions, prepared by a non-commissioned officer, formerly a citizen of Beaver county, were read and adopted without one dissenting voice:

HEADQUARTERS 101st Reg. P. V.
Plymouth N. C. June 2, 1863.

WHEREAS, We have learned with surprise that certain disloyal newspapers of the North have grossly misrepresented our sentiments, and insulted our honor, by assuming that the Union Army has become so "tired of the war" that peace upon almost any terms would be desirable; and,

WHEREAS, It has been charged that the earnest voice of the army expressed by letters and by resolutions, is not the voice of the army, but the voice rather of "thieves and contractors;" we deem it high time to defend ourselves from so gross and flagrant a slander; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the non-commissioned officers and privates, of the 101st Reg. P. V., do most cordially endorse the resolutions from our regiment, published in the Beaver Argus of April 29th, 1863.

Resolved, That while we are in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war," until treason shall lie bleeding at our feet, we bitterly denounce the publishers of such slanders and their correspondents, whether at home or in the army; as unworthy of our confidence—disgraceful to a loyal people—dangerous in a republican government—loathsome in the estimation of the army, and more contemptible because less brave than the open enemy in the field.

Resolved, That we submit the foregoing preamble and resolutions for publication.

Offensive Rebel Movements---Lee's Army in Motion up the Shenandoah Valley--Pittsburg and Wheeling Threatened---Two Thousand Men Called for to Work on Fortifications.

A fever excitement prevailed in the city on Sunday evening, caused by rumors of very important dispatches having been received by General Brooks from the War Department, apprising him of the very imminent danger of an incursion into his department by the enemy. A variety of rumors, some of them entirely groundless, prevailed, and the excitement momentarily increased, and continued without abatement until late in the night.

The substance of the dispatches received by Gen Brooks, as far as we could learn, were that Lee's army, or a large portion of it, was in motion up the Shenandoah Valley, that Winchester and Martinsburg had been occupied by a force supposed to be the advanced guard. General Schenck and Milroy were in the vicinity in considerable force.

The operator at Frederick city, Md., telegraphed Gov. Curtin last night that sharp fighting was going on at or near Martinsburg. Governor Pierpont also telegraphed that Wheeling was threatened by a large force of rebels at Charleston, in the Kanawha region.

Gen. Halleck advises that Pittsburg and Wheeling be placed in a state of defense as soon as possible, as the danger was most imminent.

Work will be first commenced on fortifications on the south side of the Monongahela.

Gen. Brooks, and also Gen. Bernard, are fully alive to the emergency of the occasion, and with the hearty co-operation of this community, will be able to accomplish much in a brief space of time towards placing this vicinity in a state of defense.

The "Morgantown scare" was but the prelude of what is now coming. We repeat, the danger is imminent.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Proclamation of Gov. Curtin.

HARRISBURG, June 12.—The following proclamation has just been issued by Gov. Andrew G. Curtin:

Pennsylvania, ss.—In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Andrew G. Curtin, Governor of the said Commonwealth, a Proclamation. Information has been obtained by the War Department that a large rebel force, composed of cavalry, artillery, and mounted infantry, has been prepared for the purpose of making a raid into Pennsylvania the President has therefore erected two new Departments, one in Eastern Pennsylvania, to be commanded by Major Gen'l Couch, and the other in Western Pennsylvania, commanded by Maj Gen. Brooks.

I earnestly invite the attention of the people of Pennsylvania to the General Orders issued by these officers on assuming command of their respective departments. The importance of immediately raising a sufficient force for the defence of the State cannot be overrated. The corps now proposed to be established will give permanent security to our borders.

I know too well the gallantry and patriotism of the freemen of this Commonwealth to think it necessary to do more than commend this measure to the people, and earnestly urge them to respond to the call of the General Government, and promptly fill the ranks of these corps, the duties of which will be mainly the defence of our own homes, firesides and property from devastation.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State at Harrisburg, this twelfth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-Seventh. By the Governor. ELI SLIFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

HARRISBURG, June 14.—The following order has just been issued:

Headquarters, Pennsylvania Militia, Harrisburg, June 13—General Order No Forty-two: Whereas, Information has been received from the War Department that the State will receive credit for all enlistments of colored men who may be mustered into the United States service as Pennsylvania troops, under the authority of the War Department, and that no credit can be allowed for individuals who leave the State, and are mustered into organizations elsewhere, it is ordered:

First—All persons are prohibited from raising colored volunteers in Pennsylvania, otherwise than under the authority of the War Department to recruit in Pennsylvania.

Second—The people of color in Pennsylvania are forbidden to enlist in or attach themselves to any organization of colored volunteers to be raised from other States.

Third—All magistrates, district attorneys, and Officers of the Commonwealth, are required to prosecute all persons who shall disobey this general order, and particularly all persons, recruiters and abettors, who, under pretended authority, shall enlist colored volunteers for any brigade, regiment, battery, or company, to be raised from from other States, or who shall advertise and open or keep recruiting stations for such enlistments, expecting under the authority of the War Department to recruit in Pennsylvania, so that such offenders may be brought to justice.

By order of A. G. Curtin, Governor and Commander-in Chief.

A. L. RUSSELL,
Adjutant General of Penna.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The following has been received from Newbern, N. C. A letter dated, Newbern, June 7th says the concurrent testimony of deserters leaves no doubt that the long smouldering fires of revolution are breaking out in the interior of North Carolina, and the disaffection has reached a point far beyond even the significant intimations of the journals. Several thousand refugees from the conscription have been armed with artillery, successfully defying the Confederate authorities.

The Raleigh Standard, loudly complains that white rebel conscription has not been enforced in Georgia and Mississippi. North Carolina has been mistaken with a fine tooth comb. It appears, that in the battle of Chancellorsville the North Carolina regiments were placed in the front to cover Gen. Hooker's advance, sustaining immense slaughter, while the South Carolina and Virginia regiments were held in reserve. This massacre of the North Carolinians is boldly and fiercely denounced, and the Confederacy is charged with gross injustice and bad faith. The numerous other instances of ignition put upon this same people keenly resented. In order to secure concert of action, and avoid all future conflicts of authority, necessarily produced by the appointment of civilian, it is proposed to make General Wild, of the Africa Brigade, Military Governor of North Carolina. He possesses executive abilities of a high order, and as General Foster remarks, "Is a gallant and accomplished soldier and gentleman." He has already won great popularity in this Department.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—A spirited engagement took place near Monticello Ky., on the 11th. Our troops, under Col. Nantz, had driven the rebels from Monticello, and were falling back toward the Cumberland river, when the enemy rallied in force, and attacked our rear guard. Our forces retreated slowly until reinforcements came to their relief, when a desperate and bloody fight ensued, lasting two hours, and resulting in the defeat of the rebels. Our loss thirty killed and wounded; rebel loss not stated.

Gov. Morton has issued a proclamation to the people of Indiana, solemnly warning all persons against any resistance to Government in any way, or hindering officers in the discharge of their duties.

Richmond has the following advices from rebel sources. The rebels claim a loss in the Port Hudson fight of 600. The seat of government is temporarily removed to Breckinridge made a visit to Mobile on the 28th ult.

SIX HUNDRED AND FIFTY a secesh journalist ever condescends, to the use of, would form a very nice word for debate. Take for example, his denunciation against what he terms Lincoln's depreciated rag currency. There is scarcely anything in the vocabulary powerful enough to express his affected contempt for treasury issues, which stand in relation to gold, at about one hundred and forty-five cents of the former dollar of the latter. Yet the same rebel editor finds it difficult to procure one dollar in gold for six hundred and fifty cents of his Treasury notes. This vast difference between the credit of the National Government and the bogus affair at Richmond does not, however, find its way to his understanding faculties. He sees, or pretends to see, in the depreciation on this side of the line, nothing but ruin and disaster to the populous and wealthy commonwealths of the North.

MARRIED—On the 11th inst., by Rev. John Brown, of Freedom, Mr. JOHN POWELL to Miss MARY ELLEN MILLER, all of Beaver county.

On the 2d inst., Mr. WILLIAM TORRENCE, of Hanover township, aged 76 years.

Lost $20 Dollars Reward.

I will give the above reward to any person finding, or giving me information that will lead to the recovery of my boy THOMAS, (or the farm of Mr. Dunseith, about four miles below Beaver, on the 14th April last, and has not been heard of since. He is about 15 years old, fair hair, grey eyes. There were marks of powder on his face, caused by the bursting of a pistol. Address

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, fatigue, hysterics, pain in the back and limbs, etc., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills

are the most effectual remedy known for all complaints peculiar to Females. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box—the Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor. Dr. Smith of Bridgewater sole agent for this County.

THE SOLDIER'S TRUE FRIEND!!

ALWAYS READY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

LONG marches, sore and stiff joints, blistered and inflamed feet, all these the soldier must endure, MOTHERS, REMEMBER THIS. When your sons are grasping their muskets to meet danger, think what relief a pot of this ALL HEALING & COOLING Salves will give to the one you love when far away from home and friends. It hardens and makes tough the feet so that they can endure great fatigue. It soothes and relieves the inflamed and stiffened joints, leaving them supple, strong and vigorous, while for it stands unequalled, removing and preventing every vestige of inflammation and gently drawing the edges together, it quickly and completely heals the most frightful wounds.

WIVES AND SISTERS OF OUR VOLUNTEERS

Yo cannot put into the Knapsacks of your Husbands and Brothers, a more valuable or more necessary gift than a supply of this EXTRAORDINARY MILITARY SALVE.

The lonely sentry walking his rounds at night, exposed to drenching rains and chill night air, is often seized the most VIOLENT PAINS, COUGHS and SUFFOCATING HOARSNESS, first symptoms of QUICK CONSUMPTION, but if supplied with HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, all danger is averted, a few Pills taken night and morning, and the ointment briskly rubbed twice a day over the throat and chest will remove the SEVEREST PAINS and stop the most distressing or DANGEROUS COUGH Therefore we say to the whole army,

SOLDIERS ATTENTION!!

See to your own health; do not trust to the Army supplies although most valuable. These PILLS and OINTMENT have been thoroughly tested, they are the only remedies used in the European Camps and Barracks, for over forty years Doctor Holloway has supplied all the armies in Europe, and during the CRIMEAN CAMPAIGN he established a depot at Balaclava, for the exclusive sale of these GREAT REMEDIES, many a time his special Agent there has sold over a ton in weight of the Ointment in a single day. These terrible and fatal enemies of the Soldier in Camp, DIARRHEA, DYSENTERY, SCURVY, SORES and SCROFULOUS ERUPTIONS, all disappear like a charm before these PILLS AND OINTMENT, and now while the Cry rings throughout the land,

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

Do not let these brave men perish by disease, place in their hands these PRECIOUS REMEDIES, that will enable them to resist the dangerous exposures, the Fevers, the Chills, and the wounds which they cannot avoid, and what is more, cannot frequently get succor in the moment of need, whereas if our brave men have only to put their hands into their Knapsacks and find there a sure remedy for all the casualties of the battle field. How many thousands of lives would thus be saved who would otherwise perish before relief could be obtained.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box: the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

☞ Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

Office of JAY COOKE,

SUBSCRIPTION AGENT,

JAY COOKE & CO., Bankers,

140 SOUTH THIRD STREET,

Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1862.

THE undersigned, having been appointed SUBSCRIPTION AGENT by the Secretary of the Treasury, is now prepared to furnish, at once, the of the United States, designated as "Five-Twenties," redeemable at the pleasure of the Government, after five years, and authorized by Act of Congress, approved February 25, 1862.

The COUPON BONDS are issued in sums of $50, $100 $500, $1000.

The REGISTER BONDS in sums of $50 $100, $500, $1000 and $5000.

Interest at Six per cent. per annum will commence from date of purchase, and is

PAYABLE IN GOLD,

Semi-Annually, which is equal, at the present premium on gold, to about EIGHT PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

Farmers, Merchants, Mechanics, Capitalists, and all who have any money to invest, should know and remember that these Bonds are, in effect, a FIRST MORTGAGE upon all Railroads, Canals, Bank Stocks and Securities, and the immense products of all the Manufactures, &c., &c., in the country: and the full and ample provision made for the payment of the interest and liquidation of principal, by Customs Duties, Excise Stamps and Internal Revenue, serves to make these Bonds the Best Most Available and Most Popular Investment in the Market.

Subscriptions received at PAR in Legal Tender Notes; or notes and checks of banks at par in Philadelphia. Subscribers by mail will receive prompt attention, and every facility and explanation will be afforded on application at this office.

A full supply of Bonds will be kept on hand for immediate delivery.

TO PHYSICIANS & DRUGGISTS.

THE undersigned would inform Physicians and Druggists that, owing to an increasing demand, he is now prepared to manufacture on a larger scale than heretofore all articles of the Pharmacopœia. These will be of the strength and quality as dispensed in the Prescription Department of my store, and will be found superior in strength to most in market. I guarantee them to be of the proper strength and purity.

Some preparations offered are new, but will be made officinal in the new Pharmacopœia soon to be issued, and will be found to be valuable remedies.

Any information as regards their strength, uses and qualities will be sent to those desiring it.

I would advise Physicians who have been disappointed in the effect of any remedy, to try those of my manufacture.

They include—

Compound Extract of Colocynth,

Fluid Extracts of Dandelion, Buchu, Ergot, Gentian, Lipulin Valerian, Wild Cherry Bark, and others,

Citrate of Irod and Citrate of Iron and Quinine; very soluble,

Wine of Iron and Wine of Iron and Bark, agreeable; chalybeates,

Syrup of the Hypophosphites,

Cerate of the Extract of Cantharides; a more reliable preparation than the common Cerate,

Oxalate of Cerium; useful in obstinate vomiting,

Elixir of Valerianate of Ammonia: a valuable remedy for nervous or sick headache, where a nervous stimulant and antacid is indicated.

Solution of Bi-meconate of Morphia: same strength as Laudanum and more agreeable in its effects.

Pyro-phosphate of Iron; soluble.

These, together with all rare and fine chemicals and other medicinal articles, furnished in any quantities.

I am prepared to make chemical examinations of Ores, Drugs, Oils, Waters, &c.

The Eye.

DR. J. R. SPEER, 196 Penn st., Pittsburg, continues to devote special attention, as he has done for the last twenty-five years, to the diseases, deformities and defects of this important organ.

In reply to frequent inquiries of correspondents, it may be stated that, amongst the CURABLE diseases of the eye are Cataract, where the pupil is of a milky color, instead of black, as in the healthy eye: Ophthalmia, Pterygium, Opacities and Films from recent inflammation, Nervous Sensibility of the Optic Nerves, Strabismus, or Crooked Eyes, Inversion of the Eye-lids, Fistula, Lachrymalis.

Amongst the incurable are Amaurosis, or complete paralysis of the optic nerve, where no light is visible; Opacities and Films from chronic inflammation; all cases in which the ball of the eye is lessened or altered in form by disease of injuries.

Defects of Vision, as along or short sightedness, may generally be relieved or cured by properly adjusted glasses.

A Family and an Agricultural Journal,

DEVOTED TO

CHOICE LITERATURE,

INCLUDING

Poetry, Novelettes, Tales,

AND MORAL AND ENTERTAINING READING GENERALLY.

In the Literary Department we shall present the choicest varieties within the reach of our extended means, The Novelettes, Tales, Poetry, &c., shall be supplied from the best and highest sources, and be equal to anything to be found in any journal or magazine.

Agriculture and Horticulture,

EMBRACING

Farming, Gardening, Fruit-Raising, &c.

In all their branches, as conducted on the latest and most approved system.

Our labors in this department for over thirty years, have met the cordial approbation of the public. Our purpose has been to furnish useful and reliable information upon these very important branches of industry, and to protect them so far as within our power against the false doctrines and selfish purposes of the many empires and sensation-adventurers by which the Farmer is incessantly assailed. This portion of the Germantown Telegraph will alone be worth the whole price of subscription, as every Farmer and Gardener, who has a proper conception of his calling, will readily admit.

NEWS DEPARTMENT.

The same industry, care, and discrimination, in gathering and preparing the Stirring Events of the Day, expressly for this paper, which hitherto has been one of its marked features and given so universal satisfaction, will be continued with redoubled efforts to meet the increasing demands of the public. The labor required in this department is never fully appreciated by the reader. It would be impossible to present, the condensed and carefully made-up form in which it appears, corrected mass of all the most interesting news of the week, without involving much physical labor, tact and judgment.

We annex the cash terms, to which we beg leave to call attention of all who think of subscribing for a newspaper:

Advance Cash Terms.

One copy, one year, $2; one copy, three years, $5,00; three copies, one year, $5,00; Five Copies, One Year, $8,00; Ten Copies, One Year, $15,00; Twenty Copies, One Year, $28,00.

Subscription not paid within the year, $2,50.

A Club of five subscribers, at $8, will entitle the person getting it up to a copy for six months; a Club of ten or more, to a copy for one year. All Club subscriptions stopped at the end of the time paid for, unless re-ordered.

No order will receive attention unless accomplished with the cash.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT.

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER.

And Other

Nervous and Chronic Diseases.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement; or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body, will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams: all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at great expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotten up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

CRITTENDEN'S PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

N. E. corner of 7th & Chestnut St.,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the eighteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade; Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law, mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time A DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

CRITTENDEN'S Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS,

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS

Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N.B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

MARRIAGE.

ITS loves and hates, sorrows and angers, hopes and fears, regrets and joys; MANHOOD, how lost, how restored; the nature, treatment and radical cure of spermatorrhœa or seminal weakness; involuntary emissions, sexual debility and impediments to marriage generally; nervousness, consumption, fits, mental and physical incapacity, resulting from SELF-ABUSE—are fully explained in the MARRIAGE GUIDE, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This most extraordinary book should be in the hands of every young person contemplating marriage, and every man or woman who desires to limit the number of their offspring to their circumstances. Every pain, disease and ache incidental to youth, maturity and old age, is fully explained; every particle of knowledge that should be known is here given. It is full of engravings. In fact; it discloses secrets that every one should know; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents in specie or postage stamps.

Address DR. WM. YOUNG, 416 Spruce st., above Fourth, Philadelphia.

Afflicted and Unfortunate, no matter what may be your disease, before you place yourself under the care of any of the notorious QUACKS—native or foreign—who advertise in this or any other paper, get a copy of Dr. Young's book, and read it carefully. It will be the means of saving you many a dollar, your health, and possibly your life.

DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the diseases described in his publication, at his office, 416 Spruce Street, above Fourth, Philadelphia. Office hours from 9 to 3, daily. [mar26

NOW.

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS BEST?

The best evidences that they are is, that our firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd, an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizens of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known in the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience. Inclosed find bill."

But their cost is so small that every one can test the matter for himself.

Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acid, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm of woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul secretions, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day be more pleasantly spent. Hundreds of persons testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.
